

[illegible]

Art And Architecture | A Disposition on Play, Symbol and Festival

Architecture like art is something that must be experienced. Our senses are constantly attacked as we move through, in and around spaces. Rarely ever do we experience a single space from one perspective. More commonly we experience space through movement. Allowing the body to pass in and among the structure. This image is architecture, just as one image bleeds and dissolves into the other so does the user bleed and dissolve between spaces. The six perspectives lay buried deep within layers of Technical drawings, guiding the viewer through the experience of architecture.

Architecture like art is something that must be experienced. Our senses are constantly attacked as we move through, in and around spaces. Rarely ever do we experience a single space from one perspective. More commonly we experience space through movement. Allowing the body to pass in and among the structure. This image is architecture, just as one image bleeds and dissolves into the other so does the user bleed and dissolve between spaces. The six perspectives lay buried deep within layers of Technical drawings, guiding the viewer through the experience of architecture.